Anderson Has Broken Arm.

Mr. J. J. E. Anderson is suffering from a broken arm, sustained in a three-cornered contest with a horse and a calf in his last Thursday evening. Mr. Anderson's horse began kicking at a calf which had appropriated the stall, and in getting out of the way of the horse's heels Mr. Anderson fell upon his right arm, breaking it below the elbow.

Included in the loss were several bales of cotton ready for ginning, among the lot being a bale and a half for Mr. J. T. Proctor who only a few months ago lost his home by fire, and who was later almost killed by a blow on the head inflicted by Mr. Jesse Joiner in a dispute.

UNION IN THE COTTON MARKET

FARMERS' UNION WILL AID IN MARKETING THE CROP.

As will be apparent from a notice in another column, the Farmers' Union of Bulloch county has inaugurated a movement to aid the farmers in the marketing of their cotton, cutting out the profit which usually goes to the local buyer.

The plan is to have a representative of the union take charge of the cotton, for members of the union as well as others who desire to sell themselves of his services, and ship direct to a cotton factor in Savannah, the local representative advancing approximately the value of the cotton and making final settlement after receiving account sales from the Savannah factor.

The local representative, Mr. W. M. Tankersley, is compensated for his services direct from the locals of the county, of which there are twenty-six, and makes no charge to the grower for his services in marketing the cotton. The union believes this method will tend to hold up prices by securing a more gradual marketing of the crop.

Notice.

An examination will be held at the court house on Dec. 18th and 19th for applicants to teach in the public schools of Bulloch county. All teachers not holding a grade must take this examination.

School law and school management will be stressed.

CLINO SETTLES TROUBLES.

Pays Fine and Returns to His New Home at Wadesboro.

Dr. E. A. Clino left Statesboro last Saturday evening in the custody of Constable Grimes of the Hagan district, Tattnall county, where he was called upon to settle a charge of cheating and swindling in connection with the hire of a team of horses. His return through Statesboro the next morning indicated that he had settled the trouble, and he stated that he was going back to Wadesboro, N. C., from where he was recently brought to Statesboro to answer a number of criminal charges.

As heretofore stated in these columns, the grand jury refused to return an indictment against Clino on a burglary charge, which left against him only the charge of carrying concealed weapons. To this he pleaded guilty in the city court, and Judge Brannen imposed a fine of $50 and costs, which the Doctor was aided by friends in Wadesboro in paying.

Shortly before Clino's departure Saturday afternoon, Mr. C. M. Anderson swore out a second warrant charging him with cheating and swindling, but Solicitor Lanier, regarding the man as more persecuted than prosecuted, refused to represent the state in the preliminary before Judge Holland, and the Doctor was dismissed.

The first train is for the purpose of handling the traffic on the line between Statesboro and Cuyler, and will be attached to the through train at the latter point. ## Defense of The South.

Not because the South feels that the needs defense against the merciless and untruthful critics of the North, but because a defense from that section is so rare, the TIMES takes pleasure in reproducing this very truthful editorial from the Buffalo (N. Y.) Republic:

Former United States Senator J. W. Carmack, of Tennessee, was shot down in a pistol duel on the streets of Nashville the other day, and instantly the Northern newspapers raised their editorial hands in horror over what they pleased to term the "lawlessness of the South."

Bands of ignorant and criminal men, known as the Night Riders, have destroyed some property, taken human life and committed other outrages in a few of the isolated provinces of Kentucky and Tennessee.

The Northern press blames it all to the "lawlessness of the South," notwithstanding that all the official powers of those two states, from the governors down, were promptly invoked to put an end to the depredations and capture and punish the guilty.

If a brute of a negro is lynched in Mississippi, the Northern papers shriek "Southern lawlessness!" Whenever a crime of any special public interest is committed anywhere below Mason and Dixon's line, the whole South is held up as an awful example of benighted, unregenerate and criminal society and placarded throughout the North as the land of the outlaw, where the mob is sovereign and every native swaggers about with a six-shooter on a hunt for a human target.

The South has been libeled and maligned by the Northern press long enough, and more columns of editorial rot have been published about the "lawlessness of the South" than would be required to recount the degenerate and criminal escapades of "high society" from Pittsburgh North for the last twenty years, and that's saying a heap.

When you recall the shooting down of Sanford White by Thaw in the very heart of New York city, the Hains-Annis tragedy at a swell Long Island resort, the dynamiting, outrages of the Black Hand in the metropolis of this state, the anarchist massacre in Chicago, the butchery at Homestead in Pennsylvania, the annual wholesale election crimes in Manhattan, the slaughter of men, women and children by motor mad, law-breaking Northern millionaires and the stupendous, unchecked and unpunished crimes of high finance in which whole communities have been deliberately and lawlessly looted, as in the New York city traction deals, you should marvel at the patient moderation of the Southern press in not at least retaliating by pointing to the North as the land where stalks the hideous spirit of lawlessness.

There is no such thing as the "lawlessness of the South." Criminal characters are there, but are there none in the North? Isn't it a fact that there are streets in the heart of Chicago where ten-fold danger lurks to life and property than in the loneliest mountain paths of the South? And what about the salacious records of the Northern divorce courts which represent in an inestimable degree a greater menace to the country than do the negro lynchings of the South?

The South has problems to deal with concerning which nine out of ten Northern editors possess not even primitive intelligence. More than half the South where the negro outnumber the white man try Southern negro is the most benighted human being on the continent without exception. You can go into the black belts of any state in the South and find more inhabitants to a square mile who resemble mere animals in their social and material activities than you can find in the Bronx Zoo.

And yet, taking it all in all throughout the South, the blacks do not produce as much trouble and lawlessness as do the criminal and immoral elements in Pittsburgh, Chicago and New York.

The Northern newspapers that, through ignorance or design, persistently seek to instill in the public mind that there is such a thing as a "lawless South," do harm, not alone to the South, but to the Republic as well.

The war is over these forty years or more, Mr. Northern Editor. The South, with its wounds healed and forgotten, and manfully and patiently bearing the burden represented by millions of an indolent, ignorant and improvident race, has risen into imperial proportions, and has made, and is now making, gigantic strides along educational and industrial lines. To teach the world that in the South a greater proportion of the inhabitants are of the country, is to write a basic lie into the nation's history. And yet the Northern press, much of it debauched and debased by Northern commercialism, thus dery and assail the South, when it might, with far greater profit to the public, expose and denounce the great money interests of the North, which it so servilely represents.

Thanksgiving at the Tank.

Thirteen girls and four boys from Metter spent the day very pleasantly at the tank near here Thursday. As there were three girls for each boy and one over, the thirteenth one regretted very much that a certain other young man was not there.

SPEER ON PROHIBITION.

Says Savannah Dealers Ignore the Law.

MACON, Nov. 19.—Judge Emory Speer went far into a discussion of violations of the state prohibition laws in his charge to the federal grand jury here today. Much was said to substantiate the claims that the prohibition laws of Georgia are effective.

Letters from the Rome, Atlanta and Macon recorders were produced giving statistics showing a reduction in police offices of drunkenness, of 60 to 75 per cent. since the law became effective.

Savannah dealers got their share of the comment against violations, Judge Speer saying that there is little pretense at trying to obey the laws.

RECEIVES SMALL PAY.

Michigan Postmaster Draws Salary of Two Cents.

BAY CITY, Mich., Nov. 20.—James La France, late postmaster at Stewart, has received from the government as full pay for his year's services the sum of two cents.

Stewart is the postoffice for two little summer resorts about ten miles up the shore from this city. La France was appointed as the successor of a Saginaw man. He furnished the required bond and his commission arrived in due time, but no supplies.

But that didn't keep him from acting as postmaster. He bought supplies himself, borrowed a key for unlocking the pouches and settled down to serving his country.

Everything went along smoothly until Uncle Sam asked for reports. He had nothing to report on, and this led to the discovery that the supplies for the office had been sent to his predecessor, who forgot to turn them over. According to the department register the postmaster at Stewart draws nine dollars a year. But the officials could not figure that La France had more money than the salary for the few months he had received since he had received the commission.

The South has problems to deal with concerning which nine out of ten Northern editors possess not even primitive intelligence. More than half the South where the negro outnumber the white man

The Family Physician

The best medicines in the world cannot take the place of the family physician. Consult him early when taken ill. If the trouble is with your throat, bronchial tubes, or lungs, ask him about taking Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. Then take it or not, as he says.

Billious attacks, sick-headaches, indigestion, constipation, dizziness, are some of the results of an inactive liver. Ask your doctor if he endorses Ayer's Pills in these cases. The dose is small, one pill at bedtime.

Made by Dr. J. C. Ayer & Co., Lowell, Mass.

We publish our formulae free of charge.

Mr. Editor: I see in your issue of Nov. 18th the announcement of the death of Mr. Mathew Miller, my old friend and comrade, and I desire to pay a little respect to his memory.

He and I enlisted in the Confederate army, the Fifth Georgia Cavalry, he in Co. E, from Bulloch county, and I in Co. D, from Liberty county. It was during these years of conflict I first formed his acquaintance and found him to be a man of patriotic pluck and religious character. During that wonderful period we had many ups and downs together and the climax came when Gen. Wheeler took about six thousand of his best mounted men in rear of Gen. Sherman's army on a raid. And after being inside the enemy's lines four weeks it was my and Mr. Miller's misfortune, with several others of the regiment, to be captured and taken to the Federal prison of Columbus, Ohio. This was the 6th day of Sept., 1864, and we were kept there until the 11th day of June, 1865. We were put in the same barracks and same mess. In this place of confinement opportunity served to find out his disposition and character.

When men suffer adversity together it serves to draw them closer to each other and I always found him a friend and brother.

In the year 1870 I moved from Liberty to Bulloch county and lived near Mr. Miller several years and I always found him a good and kind neighbor. He was one of the most industrious men I ever knew. He was too honest to accumulate much property, but he always had plenty to live comfortably. He was a little peculiar in some respects, but he esteemed religion as paramount to all the wealth of this world, and today I am sure that he is in the enjoyment of that bliss which awaits the people of God—where there is no suffering nor sorrow, but all is joy and love and peace forevermore. B. W. DARSEY.

CONLEY BARNES AGAIN IN JAIL.

Will Probably be Held for Trial at April Court.

Conley Barnes, a young white man implicated with Lester Oliff in the burglary of the Southside Grocery last spring, is again in jail to await trial on the charge. At the last term of superior court, Barnes did not appear for trial, word having been sent to the court that he was ill. A commission of physicians sent by Judge Rawlings to investigate, made report that his condition was not such as to prevent his presence at court, whereupon the bond was ordered forfeited and a new warrant issued for his arrest. Upon Barnes' recovery, he came to Statesboro last week on business and was taken in by the sheriff, and is now in jail.

Upon the call of the case for trial in April, Barnes was absent from the county and Oliff was ill, for which reason the case was carried over to October term. At that time Barnes was ill and Oliff secured a continuance of his case upon the absence of Barnes, who was an important witness for him.

The arrest of Prince Vinson, at the jail last Thursday, where he had gone to carry breakfast to Barnes, is an incident of interest. A warrant had been issued by Mr. B. T. Mallard charging Vinson with cheating and swindling. Vinson was employed at the saw mill of Mr. Morgan Oliff, whose wife is a sister of Mr. Barnes. On Thanksgiving day Mr. Oliff prepared a choice breakfast for her brother and dispatched it by Vinson. Upon his appearance at the jail he was admitted, but was not allowed to depart.

BULLOCH OIL MILLS.

Mr. M. F. Gue, of Stillson, was a visitor to the city Saturday looking after the disposition of his syrup. He stated to the TIMES that he had arranged to sell his entire production at 33 cents per gallon. Incidentally Mr. Gue declared his intention to cut out the cotton industry from this date, and give his time to the making of hay, corn and syrup. He will this year sell 400 bales of hay, at a value of approximately $320, which he produced on 11 acres of land. His experience is that a hay crop is a better money maker than cotton.

Notice. The TIMES will finish the minutes of the Bulloch County Association this week, and if the clerks of the various Baptist churches of the county will call at this office by the last of the week and get the minutes for their churches it will oblige me.

Trespassing Forbidden. All parties are forbidden to hunt, cut wood or otherwise trespass upon the lands of the undersigned under penalty of the law.

M. W. AKINS.

A Big Potato Crop. The TIMES received the past week from Mr. J. D. Williams, at Metter, a sack of potatoes, the average weight of which was nearly four pounds.

A note accompanying the gift states that Mr. Williams raised over 500 bushels of potatoes, and that in the absence of a market for them, he is feeding them to his hogs.

A nice lot presented during the week by Mrs. J. S. Mickell averaged nearly as large as those from Mr. Williams.

This leads to the remark that the past crop of potatoes was the best Bulloch county has ever grown, and we have never before heard of so many large potatoes as we have seen this year.

Pay What You Owe Us. All parties indebted to the undersigned for repair work are urged to make prompt payment. Many of these small accounts are of long standing, and cannot be carried longer.

THE CITY PRIMARY TOMORROW

WILL BE CONTEST IN THE RACE FOR MAYOR.

At the citizens' meeting held Monday evening it was decided to hold the primary for the nomination of a mayor and five councilmen tomorrow, the polls to be open from 9 a. m. to 5:30 p. m.

That there will be a lively contest is now apparent. Mr. Homer Parker having entered the race for mayor in opposition to Mayor Strange, while the friends of Mr. J. W. Wilson are urging him to do so.

Mr. Parker's entry is not entirely a surprise, inasmuch as his probability has been discussed for several days. His determination to run, however, has only been reached since his return to the city Saturday after an absence of several days.

Mr. Parker is a son of W. C. Parker, and is a young of bright promise. He graduated from the law department of Mercer the past spring, and has already begun to establish himself in the profession here. His candidacy adds life to what promised to be a quiet primary.

Mr. Wilson, whose candidacy is regarded as probable, is one of the best known business men of the city, and has held the office of mayor on two former occasions.

Besides the nomination of a mayor a council is to be selected tomorrow. Councilman Field having arranged to leave the city, a successor to him will be selected. There are several mentioned for the position, including S. C. Groover, R. F. Donaldson, J. E. McCroan and C. H. Parrish. None of these are avowed candidates, though one of the four will likely be decided upon as a successor to Mr. Field.

Notice!

All members of the Farmers' Union are requested to meet in the auditorium of the agricultural college on Saturday, 21st inst., to attend to important business.

AN IMPORTANT MEETING.

Farmers and Business Men to Have Joint Meeting.

All farmers, merchants, business men, bankers, and other interested parties are hereby requested and urged to meet at the court house in Statesboro, Saturday, Dec. 12, at 10 o'clock a. m., to consider the question of later maturity of notes and other obligations than heretofore, in order that the cotton crop may not be forced upon the market too early and thus unduly depress the price.

W. M. TANKERSLEY, Chm.; E. M. BOHLER, F. M. ROWAN, J. L. WILSON, J. W. HENDERICKS, Com. of Farmers Union, Bulloch Co.

THE SLEEPING SICKNESS WHICH MEANS DEATH

How many readers have heard of this terrible disease? It prevails in that far-away country—Africa—especially the Congo district. It is caused by the bite of the tsetse fly. When it bites a person, the sleeping symptoms begin and finally the sufferer sleeps until death occurs.

Contrast this with the peaceful, balmy sleep of health. Is there any thing more wearing than to lie awake at night, tossing about, nervous, with cold feet, hot head and merry knows what else? Short of letting the tsetse fly bite us we would do almost anything for relief. How can we prevent it? Mr. George Hayes, of Union City, Pa., writes: "I had lost my appetite, was all run-down, could not sleep nights. I had tried everything without relief. Vinol was recommended, and to my surprise, it helped me at once; gave me a splendid appetite, and now I sleep soundly."

What Vinol did for Mr. Hayes, it will do for every run-down, nervous and overworked person who cannot sleep.

HELD ROUSING MASSMEETING

CITIZENS EXPRESS THEIR IDEAS OF CITY GOVERNMENT.

A rousing massmeeting was held at the court house Monday evening, more than a hundred citizens being present; and so far was it from a purely formal affair that it turned out to be an occasion of interest.

S. L. Moore was chairman and D. B. Turner secretary.

Following the election of an executive committee for the ensuing year, the old committee (G. S. Johnston, J. A. Brannen and S. F. Olliff) being re-elected, Mayor Strange made a verbal report of the doings of the city council for the past year. This was followed by an itemized statement of the city's finance which was presented by City Treasurer Blitch.

A little life was injected into the meeting when the question of issuing monthly statements of the city funds was brought up. It was declared that at a massmeeting a year ago the recommendation was made that the city clerk's office be separated from any other business and that monthly statements be published.

Messrs. G. S. Johnston, S. F. Olliff and J. F. Brannen led in the demand that the publication of these reports be resumed, and a resolution was passed demanding that they be published monthly instead of quarterly.

J. E. McCroan, chairman of the board of trustees of the city schools, entered an inquiry as to why the school funds, immediately after the collection of the city taxes, should not be turned into the hands of the treasurer of the school board. He argued that the funds belonged to the school board, and he objected to going before the council monthly and asking for money to pay the teachers. This matter was the occasion of considerable discussion, which finally ended in the passage of a resolution that the city laws be so amended that the school funds shall be placed, immediately after its collection, in the hands of the school treasurer, who shall be placed under suitable bond.

Mr. Howell Cone offered a resolution, which was passed, that the representatives from Bulloch county to the state legislature have the city charter amended so that it will provide for bi-ennial elections of city officials. The clause providing that these officials shall not be eligible to re-election was stricken, as was also another provision that two old members be retained on each board. The suggestion that the city clerk be made elective by the people was also objected to.

In the discussion of the city's affairs the pleasant fact was developed that the finances are in better condition now than for many years, the present council having promise of ending their term with a cash balance instead of a deficit.

Since the construction of the electric light and water plant in 1903, which cost $10,000 more than was obtained from the issue of bonds, each succeeding council has been forced to stagger under a load of debt, often borrowing money for expenditures upon their own personal endorsement. Due to a donation of $6,700 to the agricultural college last year, and to the expenditures of $2,000 in school improvements, and the purchase of nearly $1,700 worth of machinery, the present board found a deficit of $4,000 or $5,000. It has been the aim of the present council to again place the city out of debt, and that they have done well is apparent from the fact that after paying off this deficit and canceling $5,000 of the city bonds which matured this year and paying nearly $2,000 interest on the same, the treasury will contain a balance of between $1,000 and $2,000 at the end of the year's work.

Notice.

An examination will be held at the court house on Dec. 18th and 19th for applicants to teach in the public schools of Bulloch county. All teachers not holding a grade must take this examination.

School law and school management will be stressed.

J. E. BRANNEN, C. S. C.

GONZALES AND STANLEY HELD

WILL ANSWER IN COURT THE CHARGE OF LARCENY.

Joe Gonzales and J. M. Stanley, attaches of the Cole & Cooper Shows, which passed through Statesboro a couple of weeks ago, will be tried in the city court today on a charge of larceny.

The prosecutor is Mr. H. M. Jones, the merchant at Register, who alleges that the two show men found a purse of his containing $415 in cash and about $500 in notes, which they refused to return.

Cole & Cooper's show exhibited in Register on the night of November 16th. On that night Mr. Jones lost his purse from his coat pocket, which it is alleged that Gonzales and Stanley were seen to pick up on the show ground the next morning. The show crowd was followed and at Collins the two men were arrested and brought back to Statesboro. At the same time an attachment was taken out against the property of the show for the recovery of the lost money.

Gonzales and Stanley were given a preliminary before Judge Holland last Wednesday and were bound over to the city court, which is in session today.

The managers of the show, Messrs. J. A. Jones and J. H. Eschman, arrived yesterday in an attachment, in their fight for acquittal, and express every confidence in their innocence. The case will be an interesting one.

ROBBED ON THE HIGHWAY.

Citizen Held Up Near Metter and Relieved of Cash.

Information has been received of a highway robbery near Metter on Wednesday evening of last week, of which a Mr. Wilkinson, from Tattall county was the victim. While crossing the Ten-mile creek at what is known as the Turner ford, it is said that three men in disguise attacked him and relieved him of what cash he had on his person, amounting to about $15, besides a watch and chain.

No clue as to the identity of the highwaymen is had, but it is believed that the men were white and that their faces were blackened.

The entire loss is about $4,000, being covered with insurance to the amount of about $1,000.

Everett-Blitch.

At the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Bedford Everett, near Excelsior, on Thursday, 26th inst., Mr. C. G. Blitch and Miss Lula Everett were united in marriage.

After a short trip to Macon and Atlanta, the young people are now at home to their friends in Statesboro.

Beer Shop at Aaron.

The ruling having been passed by the court of appeals that Confederate veterans are exempt from the payment of the $300 license upon near-beer dealers, that business is being engaged in largely by the old soldiers in this county.

The new town of Aaron, on the S. A. & N. railway, will boast of such an enterprise within the next few days, Veteran Jacob Rocker having arranged to begin business and his stock having already arrived.

ALDERMAN LOST HOME.

While Fighting Fire Fell From House and Was Badly Hurt.

Mr. D. L. Alderman, residing near Brooklet, lost his home and all its contents, together with his smoke house, by fire Sunday about noon. While upon the roof attempting to extinguish the fire, Mr. Alderman lost his hold and fell to the ground, sustaining quite serious injuries.

The fire which consumed Mr. Alderman's home was started from the stove fire during the preparation of dinner. It was so far advanced when discovered that it could not be controlled. Besides the loss of the residence and smoke-house, a wagon standing in the yard was also burned.

The entire loss is about $4,000, being covered with insurance to the amount of about $1,000.

REPPARD KILLED IN WRECK NEAR AARON

MET HIS DEATH UNDER ENGINE

PINNED UNDER HEAVY IRONS IS SCALDED WITH ESCAPING STEAM.

Conductor A. A. Reppard, temporarily acting as engineer, was killed by the wreck of his train near Aaron, on the S. A. & N., and seventeen miles from Statesboro last Sunday morning. Pinned down by the lever of his overturned engine he was slowly scalded to death by the escaping steam while his trainmates were striving frantically for his release. The broken steam valves sent the steam over his body in such a cloud that only an occasional glimpse of him could be had. In injured negro fireman and another helper seized his extended hands and pulled desperately, but without success. The lever which held the unfortunate man down had shattered his left thigh, and the bones were projected through the mangled flesh. In this agony the poor man lived for fifteen minutes until relieved by death. It was two hours before the lifeless body was taken from its imprisonment, which was accomplished by digging under the engine and prying apart the timbers which held him.

The colored fireman and Agent Mathews, of Garfield, were on the engine at the time of the wreck, but miraculously escaped, the fireman being slightly bruised by his fall and Mr. Mathews uninjured.

The wrecked train was the regular train from Garfield to Statesboro, due here at 7:30. The engine was being backed in from Garfield, drawing the caboose in which there were a dozen or more passengers, and was making moderate speed when the wreck occurred. There is a slight curve in the track about a mile above Aaron, and the train had just passed that point when the tender climbed the rail and ran along on the ties for several yards. Backing off to the right of the slight embankment, the tender tumbled across the track and threw the engine off on the opposite side. The track was somewhat torn up by the wreck, and the rails were turned and bent, but there was no apparent reason for the tender climbing the track. It is thought that a small bolt or other object may have dropped under the wheels, though nothing of the kind was visible.

Information of the accident was brought to Statesboro by a party of men who secured a hand car from the section crew, and reached here about 9 o'clock. As quickly as possible a train was made up and

Had Quirk Work.

READY TO GIVE UP IN DESPAIR Restored to Health By Vinol

"I was sick, run-down and finally had to give up work. After trying number of remedies and several physicians, I was just about ready to give up in despair. I saw Vinol advertised and decided to try it, and it has done more good for me than all other means combined. It has built me up and restored my strength until I now feel twenty years younger, and am able to attend to my work again as usual."

Job Jaysons, 1022 Lind street, Wheeling, W. Va. The reason Vinol is so successful in such cases is because it contains tonic iron and all of the strengthening blood-making and body-building elements of liver oil, but no oil. Vinol is unexcelled as a strength creator for old people, delicate children, weak, run-down persons, and after sickness—and is the best known remedy for coughs, colds and bronchitis.

We return your money if Vinol fails to give satisfaction.
